ACCEPTANCE CRITERIA & BUG THRESHOLD SERVICES

QAT Global customizes acceptance criteria to meet the needs and expectations of each client. We work closely with you to clearly define your needs and expectations so your requirements documentation clearly outlines your acceptance criteria for each type of functionality, and your user stories are well defined.

Ultimately, testing is done using your acceptance criteria. Acceptance test-driven tests outline what the user should be able to do, define when acceptance criteria are “done,” and rely on the core principles of Agile by enabling communication between the business and engineering, and between dev and QA.
